- if you need more performances you can

    - decrease granularity of locks (example implementing a forward linked list with double pointers to head and tail)

    - lock free algorithms (more error prone though)

DeadLocks